EDITORIAL NOTES.

The term of the present legislature should have expired last Wednesday, and every one will breathe easier knowing that the worst is over.

A bill has passed both houses of the Legislature increasing the salary of the Probate Judge of Mohave county to four hundred dollars per year. This should have been done long ago.

The mining process is to be abandoned by the government. We have never heard of its having been of any particular use or benefit to the territory, and it is just as well that it should be discontinued and a useless expenditure stopped.

We are glad to note that our public school is once more in session, and hope that before the present term is out something will be done towards erecting a permanent school house, in the place of paying rent for the wooden shell now in use. We do not need anything very elaborate or expensive at present but we certainly ought to have an adobe building for school purposes during the heat of summer.

By reference to a dispatch published in another column, it will be seen that the celebrated Bidwell-Gird case is ended, the jury bringing in a verdict for the defendant. The verdict meets with general approval here where both the parties are well known, and will be a deserved rebuke to the machinations of a set of scheming lawyers who have evidently manufactured the plaintiff's case out of whole cloth, on the chance of being bought off.

It is said that the A. & P. company will use every endeavor to make Kingman the great town of Mohave county.—Courier.

It is said! By whom? Only by those interested in booming Kingman, and they consist of, a railroad contractor, a railroad engineer and a capitalist. Thus far the railroad people have not committed themselves by any act or deed which would authorize the statement made by the Courier, but whether they have or not would make no difference in the matter, for great towns arise where the business wants of a large population need them, and arise independent of railroad companies. In fact as a rule railroad companies generally meet with failure when they attempt to foist a town on a community where there is nothing to support one. One does not need to go further than Maricopa for an example of this kind. We do not wish to be understood as saying that there will never be a town at Kingman. On the contrary we think there will be one there, most assuredly, but it will be distinctly a railroad one, depending entirely upon the railroad employees and transient travel for its support. Where the great town of this county will be depends entirely upon its mines and their future product, and we are inclined to believe from the fact that Mineral Park is in the centre of the great mining district of the county, that it will continue to hold its position as the leading town of the county.

Where the richest mines are, there the most business and people will be in spite of the efforts of any railroad company.

Further spread of small pox. Dr. Crook has received the following: "Sir, if you know the story of the gun powder plot you had better not open the schools yet. I warn you." No name is signed.

Davis Resigned.

Washington, March 3.—At 12 o'clock, Davis, president pro tem. of the senate in resigning that office, delivered a farewell address to the members.

Large Shipment of Precious Metal

Denver, March 3.—The shipments of gold, silver and copper from the Argo works, in this city, during February amounted to $402,000 and exceeds any previous record during February.

A Foolish Act.

Hartford, Conn., March 3.—Walter J. Hasford, a young man of this city desired to marry, and asked Belle Young to have him. She refused him, whereupon he attempted to shoot her and then killed himself.

$200,000 Fire.

Redwing, Minn., March 5.—The Deadwood and Bluff mills with two warehouses belonging to the Redwing Mill company burned yesterday. Loss $200,000, insured for about $100,000 in eastern and English companies principally.

Alexander H. Stephens Dead.

Atlanta, Ga. March 5.—Hon. J. S. Boynton, president of the state senate, was sworn in as governor. He ordered an election to fill the vacancy caused by Alex. H. Stephens' death on the 24th of April. The Democrat executive committee of the state have been called to meet next Thursday at Atlanta to consider what action is to be taken.

The remains of Mr. Stephens will be carried to the capital at 3 p. m. to day to lay in state in the hall of the house until Thursday next, when interment will be made in the Oakland cemetery. A committee of the legislature is acting with the citizens' committee. Indications are that the funeral will be the largest ever seen in Georgia. The city is heavily draped.

Danger of Inundation Along the Mississippi.

St. Louis, March 6.—The Mississippi river branch of the Iron Mountain railroad at Longville, on the river thirty miles north of Helena, which a week ago was forty feet above the water is expected to be submerged to-day. The river is still rising three inches per day at Arkansas City but otherwise the situation is unchanged. Accounts from the section between Friar's point and Vicksburg on the Mississippi side of the river for about 600 miles, are that the reports of the damage are greatly exaggerated. The levees are still unbroken and the planters are busy plowing and preparing for crops.

Death Before Surrender.

Denver, March 6.—A man named Chapman, stopping at a hotel in Springer, suicided yesterday to evade arrest. He locked himself in his room and refused to surrender to the sheriff who was trying to effect his arrest. The man shot himself through the head.

Hanging Bee.

Middleburg, Pa., March 7.—Uriah Moyer was hanged this morning for the murder of Gretchen Kintzeller in 1877.

Horrible Holocaust.

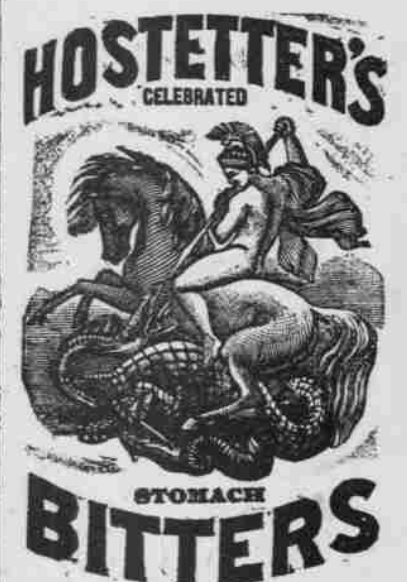

New York, March 7.—In a fire this morning in Cambridge flats, east of 64th street Mrs. Wakeman aged 5 and her daughter Rosa were suffocated. The buildings were owned by Thos. Reed and were damaged $70,000, furniture $40,000.

Mrs. Wakeman was the wife of Abraham Wakeman surveyor of this port during President Lincoln's administration. At the time of the fire he was on his way from Albany to this city. Mrs. Wakeman was an invalid, one side of her body being paralyzed. Her daughter was also suffering from illness. Both mother and daughter were found on the stairway of the third floor to which they had descended and where they had been evidently overcome by smoke. Many more lives would have been lost had it not been for the fire-escape. Later estimates make the loss $90,000 of which there is $50,000 worth of furniture. Everything insured.

Among the telegraphic dispatches in another column is one from Victoria, B. C., telling of wonderful discoveries in the shape of ledges of lead and silver ore one hundred feet wide and valued at $50,000,000. No one with any sense will place any credence in such reports which are spread abroad for a particular purpose. We do not claim anything over fifty feet wide in Mohave county in the shape of mineral bearing ledges, but we do claim that there is more gold, silver, lead and copper in the ledges of this one county than in all the British possessions on this continent.
